

THE WARRIOR FIT GAMES™

Free-style Circuit (Obstacle Course) Master Class with SGT Ken®

Program Theory

1. Program format: Free-style Circuit Fitness Training in three phases: Warm-up, Free Circuit Fitness Course (each round is approximately 8-10 minutes), and Cool-down.
2. Exercise-science elements: PROGRESSION, VARIETY and PRECISION. You perform the exercises with gradual progression and work within your limits. You perform a variety of movements in order to achieve function by performance in all three planes of motion and all forms of energy. You focus on movement precision in order to prevent injury and improve biomechanics.
3. Program focus: Free circuit fitness programs allow you perform exercises in multiple stations for a specified amount of repetitions each, or to successfully accomplish a series of obstacles (aka “fitness challenge” or “obstacle course”) with the intent to achieve the best time possible for the entire event.
4. References: US Army Field Manual 7-22: Army Physical Readiness Training (OCT2012) and the Boot Camp Instructor Course Level One Manual (NOV2015).

Warm-up Phase

Calisthenics: Perform 6-8 minutes of calisthenics, such as running in-place, Side-Straddle-Hops “Jumping Jacks” or jumping rope in order to warm-up the body.

Dynamic Flexibility: Perform 4-6 minutes of dynamic flexibility exercises, such as Knee Lifts, Hip Stretches, Leg Lifts and Shoulder Rotations.

Cool-down Phase

Dynamic or Static Flexibility: Perform 4-6 minutes of dynamic or static flexibility exercises.

Conclusion

Review of workout and Q&A period

FLOOR PLAN THE WARRIOR FIT GAMES™

